

To whom it may concern,

I had the pleasure of working with Jennifer last year in her second round of teaching through the University of Lethbridge. She eagerly took on my full teaching role for several weeks that encompassed one Biology 30 and two Biology 30 Advanced Placement classes. Over that time, I have come to know Jennifer as a motivated and conscientious person who puts a tremendous amount of effort into her many endeavors.

I have had the privilege of witnessing Jennifer's caring interactions with students, mastery of the science curriculum, and strong performance in the classroom. She always kept the students highly involved in their learning through activities, labs, and strong questioning techniques. Her ability to manage each of her classes proved to be a strength as she developed several strategies for dealing with students.

Jennifer possesses a number of characteristics, which will be assets in her career as a teacher. First, she is a confident and positive presence in the classroom. By creating a respectful atmosphere, she ensures students are focused and on task. Because of her strong organization and planning, time is used to its maximum and management issues were minimized. Her willingness to take risks will prove useful, as it will keep her students interested and continue to keep Jennifer at the forefront of education.

The professional manner with which she conducts herself and her passion for her chosen vocation are a credit to Jennifer. Her positive spirit and pure enjoyment of teaching would be inspirational, making Jennifer a strong addition to any staff or organization. To that end, it is without reservation that I recommend Jennifer for any position for which she applies.

For further information, please feel free to contact me at work 500-2047 (mail box 288), email dean.weisensel@cssd.ab.ca

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Dean Weisensel", written in a cursive style.

Dean Weisensel