 Subject: Y8 AScience Learning Walk this morning

Hi Gavin and Jennifer

Thank you for welcoming me into your Y8 lesson today.

It was really good to see you working together with this class. Your knowledge of the students and mutual support ensured the vast majority were engaged and on task looking at the answers to the test they had undertaken.

It was clear that you were keen to maintain a pace to what you were doing, but you do need to be careful to identify when some in the class clearly don't understand what you have said. This is a difficult tightrope to walk, but you may consider splitting the class for such an activity according to their ability: those who mainly get it and those who are struggling. That way you can go through questions at a pace that doesn't bore some or confuse others.

Chat to Ann about whether she thinks this to be a good idea.

Thank you again,
